

Dr. Michael L. Chambers

Michael L. Chambers has served as Academic Dean at St. Louis Christian College for the last nine years, where he also is Executive Vice President. He formerly was a member of the faculty of Florida Christian College and served as the institution's first Dean of Students. He taught courses in Bible, ethics, logic, philosophy, apologetics, world religions, and Greek language, and was Chair of the General Education department. An ordained minister, he held located ministries in Collinsville and Springfield, Illinois, before moving to Florida in 1979.

Dr. Chambers was born in Chattanooga, Tennessee, but grew up in the Midwest, attending public schools in and around Lincoln, Illinois. He earned the B.A. from Lincoln Christian College, majoring in Church Growth and World Mission. He received the M.A. and the M.Div. degrees from Lincoln Christian Seminary in Doctrine and Philosophy. His M.A. thesis is a defense of a Biblical environmental ethic against critics within the academic environmental movement. He has taken post-graduate studies at Concordia Seminary, the University of Cincinnati, and the University of South Florida, and was selected as a scholar participant at the Institute for Advanced Christian Studies. He completed a doctoral residency and research for a dissertation in philosophy at the University of Florida and was awarded the Ph.D. in Ancient Philosophy from Warnborough University in England. His doctoral dissertation is a discourse on the philosophical uses of myth by the Greek philosopher Plato.

A published author, Dr. Chambers has served as visiting professor at Cincinnati Christian Seminary and has taught courses in apologetics, logic, and philosophy at St. Louis Christian College. He is a member of the governing boards of the Consortium for Urban Religious Education in St. Louis, Missouri, and Pioneer Bible Translators in Dallas, Texas. He also serves as a member of the Partnership Team of OceanPointe Christian Church, Newport County, Rhode Island.

Dr. Chambers is married to the former Pamela Goodman. They have three married children—Christopher (Nicki) Chambers of Clearwater, MN; Cara (Jason) LeCureux of Brisbane, Queensland (Australia); and Rachel (Jeff) Stalnaker of Middletown, RI—and are the thankful grandparents of seven grandchildren.
